Thought for the Week: "Let us admit that, for all the progress we have made, we are still "illiterate" when it comes to accompanying, caring for and supporting the most frail and vulnerable members of our developed societies. We have become accustomed to looking the other way, passing by, ignoring situations until they affect us directly."
Pope Francis (Fratelli Tutti, Section 64)

The Deep End – A Different Sort of King: Jane Mellett (mellettj@gmail.com)

Today's gospel leaves us in no doubt as to what Jesus expects of his followers. It is a gospel of contrasts. It begins with a scene of judgement, with Jesus in the role of king, sitting on the throne of glory. It would have been a familiar image to the people of the time, who were expecting a great Messianic king. In the time of Jesus, kings were powerful rulers, and some were tyrants. We know from earlier in Matthew's Gospel that kings like Herod were capable of brutal acts. It is an image that remains familiar to us today, thanks to popular fairytales, movies and TV shows – the all-powerful ruler sitting on their throne, passing judgement on their subjects. But the king that Jesus talks about here turns these images upside down. He is not focused on riches or power, or inciting terror or fear. Instead, he is a fair judge, a shepherd who knows his flock. He invites all those who have acted with justice and generosity to take their place in his kingdom. He is in solidarity with the 'least' of his people – a king whose main concern is those who are hungry, displaced, sick or imprisoned. He refers to them as 'brothers'. Jesus' kingdom is centred around charity, compassion and forgiveness. He expects us to treat everyone we encounter with welcome. There are simple acts of kindness we can carry out each day. Such love for others is love for God: 'In so far as you did this to the least of these brothers of mine, you did it to me.'
In the evening of life, we shall be judged on love. St. John of the Cross

Graveyard Collection: During this month of November we remember and pray for our faithful departed especially those buried in our parish cemeteries. During the summer for the Blessing of the Graves we were unable to have our usual in person collection for the upkeep of our graveyards. Therefore, this month you are encouraged to drop an envelope marked 'Graveyard Collection' in the usual places before or after mass, the mailbox at the St. Patrick's Church Sacristy, the Parochial House or Broughderg Post Office.
You may also wish to use any unused Parish Envelopes for this purpose and mark it 'Graveyard Collection'

Scripture Saturday with Bishop Donal: Created by Derry Diocesan Youth, Bishop McKeown presents a series of short lessons on the Gospel in easy-to-understand, short (3-4 minute) videos, with tips and references of where and how to use these lessons in your daily life.
